

	Suit the action to the word The actor's body focusing on: Movement, Mime, Voice and Speech	We are such stuff as dreams are made on Devising and Design	All the worlds a stage History and Theory of Drama	Is all our company here? Examination of text and preparing for performance
Mastering	I can understand how different perspectives can be shown through the use of physical and vocal characterisation I can show great self-control I frequently remain in character throughout practical work I can describe the effect characterisation has on an audience's understating of the drama	I frequently contribute ideas to group work I can work collaboratively with groups members and I often take responsibility for the creation of drama I can undertake broad research to create informed drama I have a great awareness of the impact most elements that contribute to overall performance I can problem-solve to improve work	I can thoughtfully analyse, comment and evaluate the work of practitioners, theatre styles and genres I frequently show my understanding through using key ideas in my own work (transfer of knowledge) I can articulate understanding of how SCHP influences drama, practitioners and styles	I can thoughtfully analyse techniques that the playwright uses I frequently evaluate the effectiveness of the writer's work and my own performance I can make insightful comparisons with other known works and make links between own ideas and those of the playwright I frequently show my awareness of contextual factors I frequently offer insightful interpretations to groups work and class discussions
Deepening	I have an awareness of how different perspectives can be shown through the use of physical and vocal characterisation I can show good self-control I generally remain in character throughout practical work I can interpret the use of characterisation as an audience member	I sometimes contribute ideas to group discussions I can work collaboratively with groups members and can sometimes take responsibility for the creation of drama I can undertake general research to create drama I have a good awareness of the impact most elements that contribute to overall performance I can attempt to problem-solve to improve work	I can sometimes analyse, comment and evaluate the work of practitioners, theatre styles and genres I sometimes show my understanding through using key ideas in my own work (transfer of knowledge) I can show my understanding of how SCHP influences drama, practitioners and styles	I can sometimes analyse techniques that the playwright uses I can sometimes evaluate the effectiveness of the writer's work and my own performance I can make comparisons with other known works and make links between own ideas and those of the playwright I frequently show my awareness of contextual factors I can sometimes offer personal interpretations to groups work and class discussions
Securing	I can describe the differences between characters using drama terminology I can usually show self-control I can, at times, remain in character during performances I can generally show awareness of the audience in practical work	I occasionally contribute ideas to group discussions I can work collaboratively with groups members and can occasionally take responsibility for the creation of drama I can undertake basic research to create drama I have some awareness of the impact most elements that contribute to overall performance I can identify problems in practical work	I can thoughtfully describe, comment and evaluate the work of practitioners, theatre styles and genres I occasionally show my understanding through using key ideas in my own work (transfer of knowledge) I can comment on how SCHP influences drama, practitioners and styles	I often identify, comment and describe techniques that the playwright uses I can occasionally evaluate the effectiveness of the writer's work and my own performance I can make comparisons make links between own ideas and those of the playwright I occasionally show my awareness of contextual factors I can occasionally offer personal interpretations to groups work and class discussions
Developing	I can identify different characters and describe the differences I can show some self-control I can attempt to remain in character throughout practical work I can show my understanding of the effect characterisation has on an audience	I attempt to contribute ideas to group discussions I can work collaboratively with groups members I can undertake basic research to create drama I can identify elements that contribute to overall performance	I can attempt to describe, comment and evaluate the work of practitioners, theatre styles and genres I show my understanding through using basic key ideas in my own work (transfer of knowledge) I can describe the SCHP that influences drama, practitioners and styles	I can sometimes identify and describe techniques that the playwright uses I can evaluate the effectiveness of my peer's work and my own and provide feedback I can make comparisons between the playwright's ideas and my own I can show a basic awareness of contextual factors I can contribute to group work and
Emerging	I can sometimes show my understanding of the effect characterisation has on an audience I can occasionally show self-control in my practical work I can respect the space of others during rehearsal	I attempt to contribute ideas to group discussions I can compromise with group members to help the drama progress I can identify performance skills and describe how they are used	I can attempt to describe and comment on the work of practitioners, theatre styles and genres I show my understanding through using drama terminology I am aware of the different SCHP contexts that effect work in drama	I can identify techniques that the playwright uses I can evaluate the effectiveness of my peer's work and my own I can show my interpretation of the playwright's ideas in performance I often contribute to group work